The Educational Leadership Program at Caldwell College was a gateway for me to the world of school administration in many ways. Not only did I learn about specific aspects of leadership and practical tools to achieve my goals, I collaborated with talented colleagues and professors. I have made lasting friendships and the networks that I established through my Caldwell College coursework opened doors to my current position. I would highly recommend this program to anyone interested in exploring the world of school administration or simply hoping to develop their leadership skills within their school community.
