This inservice will examine how students learn and express themselves through the arts. Participants will connect drawing, painting, crafts, dance, song, and theater to the K-12 curriculum to strengthen learners' knowledge and skill sets to improve academic and social emotional skills and behaviors. This includes art connections to literacy, mathematics, science, social studies, health and physical education, and world languages. Proactively motivate students to excel through the arts with increased appreciation, expression and connections to themselves and the curriculum.

Participants will gain knowledge and skills to:

1. honor student exceptionalities through the arts;
2. learn how to use the arts to help students better organize, attend, comprehend, follow expectations and procedures, communicate appropriately, and interact with peers;
3. plan units of study with art connections;
4. partner with colleagues to increase art expressions and resources.

All inservices are held from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. unless otherwise noted.
Enjoy lunch on your own!
