This online inservice will focus on the role of the teacher assistant for students with special needs. Developing and implementing teaching strategies will be discussed.

Participants will gain knowledge and skills in:

1. understanding the role of the teacher assistant,
2. developing and implementing teaching strategies,
3. collaboratively working with other staff members.

Note: It is strongly suggested that participants attend both inservices in the paraprofessional series; however, participants may attend each inservice individually. Training for Paraprofessionals – Part Two is being offered online November 22, 2021. Please see inservice descriptions for details. Another Training for Paraprofessionals is also being offered on site on March 7, 2022.

This inservice is online from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m.
