Behavioral challenges can occur in any classroom setting. The key to changing these behaviors is to understand why they are occurring and then implementing interventions which address that function. This online inservice will provide a basic/general overview of ABA strategies and principles and will present how to identify the function of an inappropriate social behavior and then discuss interventions that can be used based on the different functions.

Participants will gain knowledge and skills in:

1. the function of a behavior,
2. interventions that can be used in the classroom to address the different functions of a challenging behavior.

Note: It is strongly suggested that participants attend all three inservices in the ABA series; however, participants may attend each inservice individually. ABA Series Topic One and ABA Series Topic Three are being offered online December 3 and December 17, 2021. Please see inservice descriptions for details. Another ABA series is also being offered on-site on March 14, 21, and 28, 2022.

This inservice is online from 9:00 a.m. to 12:00 p.m.
