ONLINE via Zoom - PARENT AWARENESS WORKSHOP
Tips for Managing Your Child's Behavior Using Positive Behavioral Interventions and Supports (PBIS) at Home

One of the most difficult things about parenting a child with challenging behaviors can be simply getting your child to do what you ask. Daily routines, such as getting ready for school or bed and mealtimes, can become battlegrounds. Once a behavior begins, you have already lost the battle. In this workshop, providing proactive environmental, social, and behavioral supports at home to help set the stage for your child's behavioral success will be explored. Strategies, new outlooks, and deepening your understanding of your child's behavioral concerns and how to provide the necessary support will be taught.

This workshop will focus on:

- ways to set clear expectations for children's behavior,
- how to apply the 4 to 1 rule at home with children to recognize successes,
- the method of using non-confrontational limit setting with children when behaviors occur.
